

Creating a Book Trailer Using Animoto

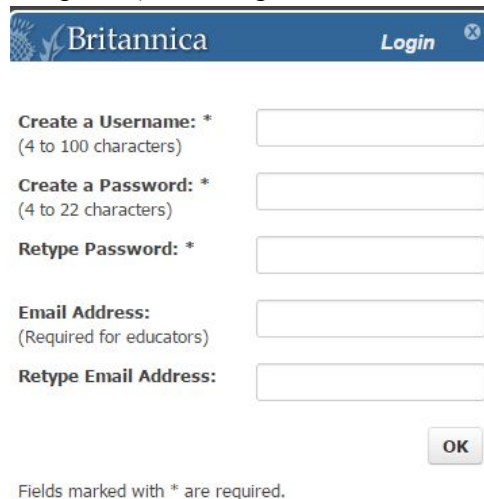

1. Select a book.
2. Make a storyboard of what you'd like your book trailer to look like.
 - a. Sketch images you will need.
 - b. Decide what text you will use.
 - i. Include the book cover on the first slide. Make the caption "Book trailer by _____."
 - ii. Include elements of character, plot and setting. No spoilers!
3. Start locating images and saving them.
 - a. Images can be found at ImageQuest.
 - b. To save images on ImageQuest, create an account by clicking on My Images in the upper right corner.

Then click Sign up.

A screenshot of the Britannica login page. It features a blue header with the Britannica logo and a "Login" button. Below the header are two input fields for "Username:" and "Password:", followed by an "OK" button. Below the "OK" button is a link that says "Forgot your username or password?". At the bottom of the form is a link that says "Not a member? Sign up now!". A large black arrow points from the right towards the "Sign up now!" link.

To create a username, use your school ID (network username to sign on to desktop computers) and for password, use library.

A screenshot of the Britannica account creation page. It features a blue header with the Britannica logo and a "Login" button. Below the header are five input fields: "Create a Username: *" (with a note "(4 to 100 characters)"), "Create a Password: *" (with a note "(4 to 22 characters)"), "Retype Password: *", "Email Address:" (with a note "(Required for educators)"), and "Retype Email Address:". Below the input fields is an "OK" button. At the bottom of the page is a note that says "Fields marked with * are required."

4. Cite your images as you save them.
 - a. In Noodletools, create a new project called Book Trailers.

- b. Click on the Sources tab on top, then click

- c. Choose Database

- d. Then choose Photo or image

Where is it?

Database | Website | Print or in-hand | Viewed/heard live | File, app, e-book

Click the option above that describes how you accessed this source.

What is it?

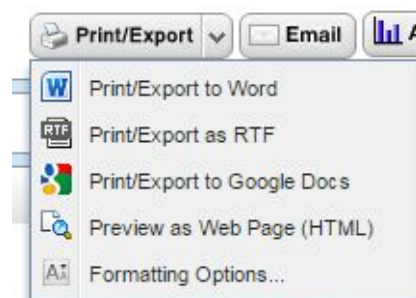

Original Content in Database	Magazine	Television Program
Anthology/Collection	Newspaper	Video Clip (Online)
Book	Photo or Image (Born Digital)	Work of Visual Art
Film or Video Recording	Radio Program
Journal	Reference Source

- e. Find your image in ImageQuest, then click on CITE (at bottom left) and copy the citation. Then click on Copy and paste a citation in Noodletools, paste it in, and Submit.

5. Use the tutorial on the library website to create your book trailer in Animoto. Make sure to save your project as you work on it.
6. Things to remember in making your trailer:
 - a. Add the cover of your selected book so your audience knows what to look for.
 - i. Search for the Wikipedia article on your book. Right click on the image and click Save image as. On a Chromebook, this will put the image in the download folder.
 - ii. In Animoto, upload the image. Add the caption Book trailer by (your name).
 - iii. Cite the image in Noodletools. The information needed is listed in the box directly under the image on Wikipedia.
 - b. Add a final slide (before the citations slide) that heightens interest in choosing the book.
 - c. Use NoodleTools to create a citation slide.
 - i. From the Sources page, choose Print/Export to Google Docs from the dropdown on the left.

- ii. Reduce the font or shrink the size so that the entire Works Cited fits on the screen at once.

1. On Chromebook

- a. Click Ctrl +

- b. This will put the image in the download folder.

- c. You can crop or edit the picture before using

2. On a desktop computer

- a. On the lower left, click

- b. Type in Snipping Tool and select it.
 - c. When making a New snip, a crosshairs sign will appear +
 - d. Drag this around the image on the screen
 - e. When you release the cursor, click File-Save as and save the image on your desktop or H drive
- iv. Upload this file as an image on the last page of your trailer.
7. When all steps have been completed, you have previewed and proofread your trailer, and you are satisfied with it, click Produce at the top of the page. For title, fill in the name of the book, add the date and your name as producer. Then click Finish. Share the link with your teachers through Google Classroom.